

TERRIBLE BATTLE OF AISNE WAGES WITHOUT DECISION ALONG HUNDRED MILE LINE

SUPREME CONFLICT OF WAR RAGES IN MIDST OF HOTTEST FIGHTING—Germans Stubbornly Hold to Original Positions.

FIGHTING NEAR RHEIMS

Famous French City Suffers Badly in Midst of Hottest Fighting—Germans Stubbornly Hold to Original Positions.

Another day has gone and neither one side nor the other, German nor Allies, lays claim to any decisive outcome in the battle of the Aisne where the supreme conflict of the war up to the present time has long been raging.

The engagement taken as a whole along the entire line, seems to be partaking of the nature of a siege. Both sides continue to hold a majority of their strongly entrenched positions. The German lines for 100 miles are described as virtually a continuation of heavy entrenchments. The artillery fire exchanges go on day and night and under their cover are sorties of infantry, counter attacks, and occasionally one side or the other gains ground. It would appear today that nothing but a successful flank movement could have any serious effect on either army, but neither front has been broken and neither side has been outflanked.

Rheims appears to be the center of the most persistent fighting. It is between the lines of battle and the city has suffered heavily. The Germans are described as most anxious to recapture this position.

The French official announcement issued at Paris this afternoon states that incessant German attacks delivered yesterday have been successful, and that the Germans have been compelled to retire at more than one point. The French took many German prisoners.

The latest communication from Berlin issued Monday night says the Germans have captured the hill position at Craonne and occupy the village of Bethny, three miles outside of Rheims to the north. This announcement described the Germans also attacking the strong forts south of Verdun. The military experts of the London Times give position to the French forces on the left which, if correct, show a remarkable advance along the flank of the German right wing under command of General Von Kluck. Up to the present time the French line has not been reported north of Noyon. The Times places it at Lacatelet, Rosiel and Lassigny. The first is 20 miles north of Noyon, Rosiel is 9 miles southwest of Lacatelet, and Lassigny is 8 miles due west of Noyon. These locations have not been confirmed from any other source, the French office having contented itself with saying that the French left wing was advancing along the right bank of the river Oise.

No confirmation of the reports from Antwerp last night that General Von Kluck had transferred his headquarters to Mons, has been received. The Germans, however, are said to be fortifying with great haste along the river Sambre from Maubeuse in France and Namur in Belgium, but this report also lacks confirmation. It finds Polace in a Paris newspaper.

In Belgium the situation shows no real change. The Belgian sorties from Antwerp continued, but apparently without effecting either the German or the Belgian position.

The Russians are before Przemyśl engaging the Austrian forces in Galicia with artillery fire. The Russians claim that the Austrians in Galicia are fleeing before them, while Vienna declares that these movements of her army are for purposes of reorganization.

A dispatch from Serbian sources lays claim to further victories over Austrian forces along the river Drina.

London, Sept. 22.—All eyes are now fixed on the western section of the great battle line in France where the allied army is expected to defend on the German right which already is bending backward under persistent pressure to the northward of the river Aisne. If these German positions are once carried, strategists believe that the whole German front will be changed.

Meanwhile, however, a "perceptible progress" is all the light the official press permits himself to throw on the great siege of the fortified position which now has lasted ten days.

German re-enforcements, according to Berlin reports, have beaten their opponents in the race of the fighting zone and the result is seen in the rapid series of strokes, which General Von Kluck has been able to deliver in an effort to stem the allies enveloping movement around St. Quentin.

Thus far the battle of the Aisne reproduces on a larger scale the chief feature of the struggle on the Marne, but whether in the final outcome the victory will rest with the same side is likely to remain a secret for a few days more.

Battle Still a Draw.

Ten days of the most furiously contested struggle known in modern history has left both armies in such a position that neither can claim a definite advantage over the other, and the result must depend largely upon what re-enforcements the opposing commanders are able to control. On the River Aisne as the Marne, the Germans are thrusting persistently at the allies' center, while the French and British troops are pursuing their favorite movement, working around the German flank. Day by day, the allied line, though stationary in the center, according to official statement, seems to gain a little ground on both wings.

Yet if the report that General Von Kluck has moved his headquarters back to Mons be true, it will be of the greatest significance as showing his recognition of the danger which might threaten him from an army marching from the west.

Paris, Sept. 22.—The following official announcement was made today in Paris:

"Along the entire front from Oise to the Woevre the Germans manifested yesterday, Sept. 21, a certain activity without obtaining appreciable results."

"First—On our left wing on the right bank of the river Oise, the Germans were obliged to yield ground before the French attack of Meuse."

"Between the Oise and the Aisne, the situation remains unchanged. The enemy has not delivered any serious attacks, contenting itself yesterday, Monday evening, with a continual cannonading."

"Second—On the center between Rheims and Souain the enemy attempted an offensive movement which was repulsed, while between Souain and Argonne we have made some progress."

"Between the Argonne and the river Meuse there had been no change."

"In the Woevre district the enemy made a violent effort. He attacked the heights of the Meuse along the front between Trevaux and Vigennes and Hendicourt without, however, succeeding in gaining position on these heights."

"On our right wing in Lorraine the enemy has again passed the frontier, using in his operation a number of small columns. Domestrot, to the south of Blamont, has been re-occupied by the enemy."

"During the days of Sept. 20 and 21, we captured twenty automobiles used in moving provisions together with all the men attached to them. We also captured on these days numerous prisoners belonging principally to the 40th, 60th, 70th, 80th, 10th, 140th and 160th regiments of German corps, to the Bavarian Landwehr and to the reserve corps."

Berlin Reports Progress.

Washington, Sept. 22.—The German embassy today received the following wireless from Berlin:

"Headquarters reports Sept. 21 that the attack against the English army makes progress. Rheims lies in the French battle line and we regret having been forced to answer their fire. The city suffered but orders have been given to spare the cathedral."

"In middle Alsace the French attacks have been repulsed. The subscriptions to the German war loan up to the present time reaches 4,200,000 marks."

Hand to Hand Fighting.

Paris, Sept. 22.—An Craonne, after a brief lull, the fighting has become fiercer and the losses of the Germans were increased. Here alone of the whole line hand to hand fighting occurred yesterday. Everywhere else the invaders left the attack to the "grumblers" as they called the immense motors which did so much damage to the cathedral of Rheims.

The significance of yesterday's official communication to be seen on consulting the maps is that the allies have advanced at points where the danger of the invaders is greatest. The progress to the west of the German front, the German right and the advance between Rheims and Argonne threatens their line of retreat and communication through Stenay."

At Rheims and Nancy.

London, Sept. 22.—A Paris dispatch to the Express says:

"While the German main attack is developing at Rheims, the French attack is centering toward Noyon. A plateau at Craonne is held by 100,000 Germans, while the village is occupied by the French. Blucher, who was defeated by Napoleon on the same ground, declares that 25,000 troops could hold this plateau against any odds."

French Bull Kills Eighteen Germans.

Enraged Animals. Charges Company of Soldiers, Goring Nearly a Score of Them.

Paris, Sept. 22.—The Petit Parisien prints the story of a bull which it says killed eighteen Germans. The story relates that when the peasants near Sustan were warned of the Germans' approach, they opened the cattle pen and endeavored to drive the cattle to a place of safety. One enormous bull became enraged, broke away from the group and charged upon the Germans, who were in a panic. He looked on in stupefaction, believing it some trick of the French. At the first dash the bull gored six, throwing them high into the air. Two others were shot and wounded the animal, which, however, gored a dozen more before succumbing.

RUSSIANS STARTING THIRD BIG BATTLE AGAINST AUSTRIANS

Bombardment of Przemyśl Reported As About to Begin With Two Million Men Engaged.

London, Sept. 22.—The third great battle between the Russians and Austrians in Galicia starting with a bombardment of Przemyśl in which 2,000,000 men are said to be engaged, is expected to be in full swing within a few hours when the whole line along the new position occupied by the Austrians between Przemyśl and Cracow will be involved. From Petrograd comes stories of the continued fight of the broken Austrian army in Galicia, while at the same time Vienna declares that these armies are reorganizing for offensive action.

It would be recalled that only Przemyśl is today standing out against the total occupation of Galicia by the Russians.

Petrograd reports further that the palace already flying from Cracow from which a portion of the unique library already has been removed for safety. Reports received in the Russian capital also state that the Austrian Polish volunteers are declining to serve against the Russians. This gives the Russians hope that Cracow may be delivered to them without a struggle.

Second reports received from Cracow state that the Austrians are attempting to reach Cracow, and they predict that there is no chance of the Austrians resuming the offensive before next week.

That the Austrian army was not so badly demoralized as first reported, is indicated by the admission "from Petrograd" that the nature of the four days' assault which preceded the recapture of Lemberg.

Washington, Sept. 22.—The German embassy today received the following wireless from Berlin:

"Headquarters reports Sept. 21 that the attack against the English army makes progress. Rheims lies in the French battle line and we regret having been forced to answer their fire. The city suffered but orders have been given to spare the cathedral."

Amsterdam, Sept. 22.—An airplane of unknown nationality dropped a bomb in Maestricht this morning near the railway station, according to a dispatch received here. "DRYS" PICKED TO WIN IN VIRGINIA.

Richmond, Va., Sept. 22.—Virginians today voted "wet" or "dry." The special election pointed strongly to a "dry" victory.

The campaign, begun a month ago, has had all the bitterness of liquor fights. Stump speakers have canvassed every hamlet and city of the state. The city newspapers, with practically one important exception, have been advocating the "wets."

Temperance workers, national and state, have been holding daily and nightly meetings for the past fortnight, and the city has been given a frenzy of excitement.

A heavy vote is certain.

KANSAS IRRIGATION CONGRESS CONVENES.

Scott City, Kas., Sept. 22.—Problems relating to the construction of wells, pumps, ditches, canals, and play, preparation of land, care of crops and irrigation legislation will be discussed at the third annual meeting session of the Kansas Irrigation congress which opened here today.

Kansas has between two and three million acres of shallow water land. Delegates will visit some of the numerous pumping plants in the vicinity and demonstrations will be given in the proper method of handling water.

Prophets of Profit.

We believe the lean days are over. Here is the greatest boom times we have known in a generation.

Every keen visioned man can see it. The armies of Europe fighting for military power have combined to make America the world's great commercial power. During the fiscal year ending June 30th, 1914, the United States imported $1,892,000,000 worth of goods. A pretty good item for our own manufacturers to supply this year. In addition, our mills must double their exports to make up for the goods Europe cannot supply. The figures are dazzling—the profits stupendous.

AUSTRIANS IN HEAVY LOSS AT KRUPIMI

Battle Lasting For Several Days Ends With Serbian Victory—Flight A Sanguine One.

Nish, Sept. 22.—The battle which has been progressing for several days near Krupimi, on the Drina river, has according to official announcement, ended in complete disaster for the Austrian army. The announcement declared that 160,000 Austrian troops were engaged in this encounter while the Serbian forces, including various bodies of men who had been concentrated along the Drina re-enforced by troops hastily recalled from Semlin and Slavonia. The fighting was very sanguinary. The Austrians attempted on Shabats was repulsed with heavy losses.

Austrians Retreat.

Paris, Sept. 22.—In a dispatch from Nish, Serbia, dated Sunday, September 20, the correspondent of the Havas news agency says that the Austrians have been forced to retreat along the entire front between Licobov, Svarin and Loutz and that they are being hotly pursued by the Serbian forces near Kouratetz. The Serbians destroyed the bridge over the Drina, but after suffering heavy losses the Austrians suggested in gaining the opposite banks. In Bosnia yesterday the Serbians occupied the height west of Rogitizna.

Washington, Sept. 22.—The following dispatch was received at the British embassy today from Sir Edward Gray of the foreign office.

"The Serbian official communication dated September 18, gives highly favorable accounts of operation against Austrians and state that the Austrian army was completely demoralized and that it is stricken and flying before our men."

"A Montenegrin army at present is only 15 kilometers from Bosnian capital, and has captured a large amount of booty."

County Democrats in Harmony Meet.

Kalvelage Again Chairman of County Committee—Aylward Forces Fail to Appear.

With twenty-one of the thirty-seven precincts represented, Rock County Democrats gathered in a session at the court house here this afternoon. Expected factional tussles did not arise as anticipated and the Karol forces nominated and elected a full county ticket. Aylward backers were conspicuous in their absence. Not a single advocate of the Madison man put in an appearance.

Gardner Kalvelage, county chairman choice of the committee two years ago was returned to the seat by unanimous vote. J. A. Jensen of Edgar was re-elected as secretary and John C. Nichols of this city will again handle the finances of the committee.

Mr. Nichols' report showed $279 collected for campaign purposes and expenditures aggregating $275 with a balance of $2.15 in the treasury.

As required by law, members of the first congressional district committee were elected. I. F. Connors and Patrick Garvin were selected.

Frank Morris of Milton Junction was chosen as chairman of the first assembly district and J. F. Hoxsie of Beloit was elected as chairman of the second district.

Alvah Tracy and William Canary of the towns of Center and Plymouth, respectively, were elected as committeemen in their towns.

The meeting adjourned shortly before 3 o'clock subject to call of Chairman Kalvelage.

Following the adjournment the committee gathered and discussed the attitude taken by the Aylward forces. One prominent county democrat ventured the opinion that Aylward's backers were content with the strength of the Karol force and would throw their support to "Ike" at the fall election.

THREE BRITISH WARSHIPS ARE SUNK IN NORTH SEA BY GERMAN SUBMARINES

CONTINUE TO URGE A THIRD CANDIDATE.

Friends of Senator La Follette Have Not Given Up Idea of His Running as Independent.

Madison, Wis., Sept. 22.—Apparently there has been no further progress in the movement to bring out an independent candidate for governor and no information could be obtained at the law offices of La Follette, Rogers as to what action will be taken by Senator La Follette. It is said here, however, that the friends of the senator have not given up in their efforts to bring him into the contest and that there is a possibility that he will enter, if his health will permit. He has practically recovered from an attack of pneumonia poisoning and whether he is strong enough to withstand the strenuous campaign, which he generally faces is the question that is now being discussed by many of his followers.

The talk of an independent candidate does not wane here. The publication of a letter from former Senator John J. Blaine of Boscebel has added fuel to the flame and many who were undecided a few days ago are now openly advocating an independent candidate. Other men who are mentioned in connection with the talk of independent candidates are George McClellan, ex-governor of New Jersey, and Fred Commissioner J. Q. Emery of Albion.

Wisconsin State Treasury Enriched by $25,000 Inheritance Tax Collection.

Madison, Wis., Sept. 22.—The state treasury was enriched by $25,000 today as the result of a persistent investigation which has been carried on for some time past by John Harrington, inheritance tax counsel for the state. Poppenhuisen was the attorney for the administrators of the estate.

One of the nephews was married to a former Green Bay girl. The tax was levied upon holding of Smith in the properties of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad. The tax has been the subject of a long investigation, and many conferences, and was finally settled by the payment of a $25,000 tax.

Perhaps the most productive of all trees is the caramba tree, similar to the palm which flourishes along the Rio Grande. When it is young it produces vinegar, while the roots have a taste similar to sarsaparilla. The branches give forth nuts which when roasted can be used as coffee. The tree's wood is serviceable to make musical instruments. Lastly there is a wax extracted from it that is used to make candles.

Movie and Playhouse Managers Will be Taxed $100 if Population of City is $15,000.

What's the population of Janesville? Local movie and playhouse proprietors are asking the question. It means $100 to them, or to be more precise, $100 from them if Janesville has reached the 15,000 mark.

Over at Washington yesterday, while the senate was making mince-meat from the "pork barrel" pickles, the house got busy on the war revenue emergency bill. They are going to raise $105,000,000. The measure was to be considered and will be probably adopted today at the meeting of the ways and means committee.

But Janesville amusement house proprietors are not worrying about the one hundred and five millions. What troubles them is whether or not Janesville has increased 1,156 souls since 1910 when the census was taken. If it has, Janesville has a population of 15,000, why then the reel shops and other amusement places will come in for a $100 levy to help raise that 105 millions.

Tobacco and Beer.
Yes, and there are effects of the Bower City to feel the effects of the tax, too. Tobacco dealers, pool halls, cigar makers and bowling allies will be taxed tobacco warehouse merchants whose sales do not exceed 1,000 pounds annually are exempt, but locally there is no dealer who can declare himself immune from the revenue.

Bowling allies and pool tables will be taxed at five dollars each. Dealers in tobacco will be assessed $12. The tobacco tax will be effective November 1.

And the amber brew comes in for its share also. Beer, according to the schedule will be good for $1.50 per barrel to the administration and it is expected that $22,000,000 will be derived from the thirst quenching source which includes wines, ales, etc. Quite a knock to the dry advocates at that.

To Tax Joy Riders.
Joy riders are likely to feel the effects of the bill for it calls for a levy of 2 cents on each gallon of gasoline.

The bill, introduced as soon as the house met, puts responsibility for collecting of telegraph and telephone taxes upon the companies through sworn returns. In 1898 the public was required to affix a stamp to each telegram.

All federal, state, county, town and municipal bonds, debentures or certificates of indebtedness, are exempt, as are stocks and bonds issued by co-operative building and loan associations that loan only to stockholders.

Insurance Policies.
In taxing life insurance policies 5 cents for each $100, the bill provides that policies issued by industrial or weekly payment plan, the tax will be 40 per cent of the first weekly premium, the company to pay the tax. The tax will not apply to any "fraternal beneficiary society, or order, or farmers' purely local co-operative company or employees' relief association."

Purely co-operative or mutual fire insurance companies carried on by members of a corporation of their own property and not for profit will be exempt.

Ugly Her Uglyteekum m m mbb
The bill will probably be passed before the adjournment of the house on Friday. It will then go to the senate where bitter and protracted debate is expected before it finally receives the upper chamber's O. K.

FIFTH CONTAGIOUS CASE IS REPORTED

Miss Marguerite Halverson, Cherry Street, is Victim of Scarlet Fever—Cunningham Improves

Miss Marguerite Halverson, a nurse who lives at 110 Cherry street, is the latest victim of a contagious disease. Miss Halverson was taken down yesterday with scarlet fever. She is at home as to whether the disease originated at or where she contracted the germs.

This makes four contagious disease signs up in the city at present but with a total of five cases. Three are diphtheria, one small-pox and the last Miss Halverson's attack of scarlet fever.

Dr. Cunningham who was made ill from attention to the first case which broke out in the city is reported today as improving slowly. Miss Etta Capelle, 621 Third street has but a slight attack of small-pox. It is said to have light because the victim had been vaccinated several years ago.

The mother of the ten years old fellow boy, the first Janesville diphtheria victim in several months, on West Fifth street at the family home just above the depot tracks has contracted the disease of the son. Free antitoxin was furnished the family last week by Health Officer S. B. Buckmaster.

A peculiar phase of the local cases is that all, with the exception of one, are found in adults. In contrast with this are the six cases reported at Beloit. Most of the Line City victims are school children who had started to school previous to knowing that they were coming down with the disease.

Luckily in this city the single youthful diphtheria victim had not resumed his studies at the opening of the fall term.

FALL STYLE SHOW OPENS NEXT WEEK

Three Big Days to Mark Inauguration of the Newest in Fall Fashions.

Already decorators have laid plans for the interior decorations, window trimmings and are preparing the many pretty things which will peep forth during the Janesville at Combined Merchants Fall Style Show and Opening, which will be held in this city during the three days, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, October first, second and third.

Those who have been given an advance peep at the pretty things say that they augur many pleasing surprises for the thousands of shoppers from Janesville and the surrounding country who are expected to visit the show. The fact that good natured rivalry between the merchants in the matter of displays means that the show next week will doubtless be superior to similar events heretofore.

From reports that have been heard relative to the preparation of the style show I am inclined to believe that it will be an event of which not only the merchants taking part in it but the community at large will be very proud of the result," said Secretary McDowell of the Commercial club this morning. "I have attended similar shows in other cities, but I believe from what has been told me as to the arrangements that the Janesville show will compare most favorably to the shows held in cities larger than Janesville."

One of the features of the arrangements that has impressed me most," continued Mr. McDowell, "is the unity of effort and the unanimity with which the merchants are working toward making the style show a success. This is most pleasing. It proves that there is a real civic spirit in Janesville and is indicative of greater things to come."

Many out-of-town visitors are expected. Not only is the interurban line preparing to make special excursion traffic but the railroads are expecting not a few visitors over their roads from nearby towns.

The formal announcements of the merchants' opening will appear in the Gazette during the three days preceding the show, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week.

GIANTS BEATEN BY CUBS; BRAVES CLIMB

Vaughn Topples McGrawites 6 to 0 While Rudolph and Mates Trim Pirates 6 to 5.

The Braves gained a full game yesterday in the National League race and are four games to the good today. Another result is that Stallings' crew are a happier bunch of youngsters today. And why? Because those second-rated Cubs, rather showed up Marquard and a few of the Giants yesterday, trimming the McGrawites 6 to 0, Vaughn being the hero. The Cubs gained on the Giants one full game, and the Giants fell a full game away from the leading Braves.

It appears that the Cubs can beat the Giants, if no other team. The series stands one and one, with another game to be played today. Cheney was O'Day's favorite for the slab work today as against Matty for New York. Polo ground enthusiasts still predict the Giants have a chance for the pennant.

Sport Snap Shots

George Stallings, the leader of the Braves, is not without an idea or two in the matter of playing pennant-winning ball. Following are more than several of Stallings' actions about winning pennants, his own team's chances and the whole situation generally:

I never play two games the same. A winning pitcher needs regular work.

Don't rush a young player. Give him time to master the big league methods.

Confidence comes first. I tell my players they're the best team in the league.

Walter Maraville is the greatest player to enter baseball since Ty Cobb arrived.

We're trying to win every game, never thinking about the pennant. The finish is too far away.

I can't say that I favor the hit-and-run over the sacrifice. Mix 'em up—that's my policy.

Stealing bases alone will not always win—that's why I don't pay so much attention to the steal for my club.

Christy Mathewson is a wonderful pitcher, if he isn't overworked. He's at his best with four or five days' rest.

Why do they consider my pitching staff weak? Davis, Crutcher and Hess equal any "second-string" pitchers in the league.

Clark Griffith of the Senators frowns severely on the "friendly" wrestling matches in the clubhouse.

that ball players so often enjoy. So much against them is that they have made a rule of finding a player two weeks' pay for taking part in one of them and the player who tries to engage another in one of them is fined the rest of the season's pay. In this way Griffith has cut them down quite a bit. Few of his men are willing to take a chance on losing all the rest of their wages for the season. Griffith opposes the matches because he knows that quite often they become too warm and one or perhaps both of the players are injured. Not long ago Dutch Leonard, pitching with the Red Sox, was so injured in one of them as to put him out of the game for quite a while.

Roger Bresnan is now being billed as "the heaviest second baseman in the game." He is covering that sack for the Cubs and seems to be getting away with it very well. He was obliged to all the job owing to the crippling of both Sweeney and Derrick, and no regular utility infielder was to be had.

It is more or less officially announced that the present in Fred Clarke's last season as a big league manager. He will not look after the Pirates next season, it is known, and we have his own word that he plans to quit the game for good. He is stepping out at the end of a score of years in the National League. He started as a player in 1894.

Sport writers in Cleveland are making quite a demonstration over the arrival of the bowling season. It isn't surprising that sport lovers in that town should greet with effusion the opening day of any season after this summer with the Naps.

NORTH ENDS WIN FIFTH GAME OF BLOTT SERIES

It looks as if the Janesville Cardinals will meet the Beloit North Ends in the last games of the year for the championship of southern Wisconsin, for the North Ends won the fifth game at Beloit, Sunday, over the Vans Colts, five to three. The Colts have dropped three straight to the North Ends but the two teams have decided seven games are necessary to settle the question. Baughn pitching, and Todish, catching, was the battery for the Colts. Wooten and Lundgren performed for the winners.

DELANVAN DUMMIES WILL MEET HIGHS

First Clash of Season at Fair Grounds October Third Is to Be Hard-Fought Contest.

Janesville versus Delavan deaf mutes, the first clash of the season. Sounds good anyway. Coach Curtis succeeded in arranging this game with little trouble, the contest to be staged at the fair grounds in this city Saturday afternoon, October third.

There are many reasons for arranging such a contest so early in the season. The mutes are a prep school aggregation, having a lunch of players known throughout this section of the country as being speedy, heavy and experienced. They have met Janesville on several occasions before, and every time trimming the blue and white by decisive scores.

Coach Curtis believes the game with the dummies will clearly show up the strong and weak spots in the local inexperienced aggregation. Janesville must fight to win and more so on the defensive. The hard schedule which will follow, must be a successful one, and even though defeated by the Delavan team, there is every belief that the game will produce a winning combination in the local school.

AMUSEMENTS

AT THE APOLLO.

"Home Sweet Home."

D. W. Griffith's mammoth production of "Home Sweet Home" will be presented at the Apollo Wednesday afternoon and evening.

The photoplay shows John Howard Payne, author of this immortal song, as he left his home at Eastamptown, Long Island, to go upon the stage; his success there and final failure and imprisonment for debt. We then see him go abroad to England where he writes plays and finally is forced to sell them all in a bundle to a producing manager for a few hundred dollars. He is shown at the height of his success, at the time of his love affair with the widow of the poet Shelley and of his subsequent flouting by that lady for his more successful countryman and rival in love as well as in letters, Washington Irving. His flight to France, his writing of "Home Sweet Home," his return to the land of his birth, and, at the last, his death while America is at Tunis alone, unhonored and unused, are all shown—and then the death of his mother, disappointed and grieved that her beloved son had done so little for the world.

Next, in a series of little "slices out of life," we see the error his mother made in believing her son had died leaving nothing. The strains of Payne's immortal song have echoed and re-echoed round the world, and all classes and races of men and women have attuned their ears to its message.

CONSTRUCTION OF TUNNEL FROM DOVER TO CALAIS

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

London, Sept. 22.—The clash of war among the nations of Europe has not modified the views of the supporters of the channel tunnel scheme whose desire to build a tunnel from Dover to Calais has been blocked for years by the military authorities on the ground that it would destroy England's insularity.

Several peers and members of parliament who have for long shown an interest in the scheme declare that instead of proving an assistance to the enemy, a channel tunnel would have been of supreme assistance in transporting the British army.

They declare they will continue the advocacy of the tunnel at the end of the war. The precautions suggested to prevent the tunnel being made use of for an invasion of England include the flooding of a dip in the tunnel, commanding exits with guns that could not be silenced from the sea, and an electric button that might touch off an explosion to destroy a part of the tunnel if necessary.

MAN, you are not alone in your desire for a clean, small chew that will give you tobacco satisfaction! That's why men are glad to find "Right-Cut."

Then when they've got it, the natural thing to do is to tell a friend—so he can get the Real Tobacco Chew. Pure, rich tobacco—seasoned and sweetened just enough.

Take a very small chew—less than one-quarter the old size. It will be more satisfying than a mouthful of ordinary tobacco. Just nibble on it until you find the strength chew that suits you. Tuck it away. Then let it rest. See how easily and evenly the real tobacco taste comes, how it satisfies without grinding, how much less you have to spit, how few chews you take to be tobacco satisfied. That's why it is the Real Tobacco Chew. That's why it costs less in the end.

It is a ready chew, cut fine and short shreds so you won't have to grind on it with your teeth. Grinding ordinary tobacco makes you spit too much.

One small chew takes the place of two big chews of the old kind.

the future indicates that all kinds of labor will be in active demand as soon as the nation adapts itself to its new relations with the old world.

If the war should close today, it will be many years before Europe recovers from its devastation. Many industries have been destroyed, and it will take the nations a long time to re-establish them. Another feature is well expressed by a writer who says: "The war has checked the flow of immigration, and it will be a long time till the tide turns our way. The god of war will take his toll in lives of those who would have been our citizens. His mailed fist will sweep away the savings of the survivors, and the fight for bare existence will make impossible accumulation of savings for passage across the sea."

"For the past ten years our immigration has averaged well above 900,000 annually, and in six of those years the million mark was crossed. Since 1920 over thirty millions have landed on our shores. One out of three returns to his native land to live in comfort on his savings, but those departing have created wealth for us greater than they take home. Those who remain do our chores."

"Soon our factories will roar night and day to rehabilitate Europe. Now there is a famine of work; then there will be a famine of labor. If the stream from Europe goes dry, jobs will go begging for the native-born scoundrels, which the immigrants accept willingly. Who will do the chores?"

It is a well known fact that the men who build our railroads, dig our trenches, and perform the drudgery in our factories, are the men who come to us from across the seas, and the question asked, "Who will do our chores?" is a significant question. This perspective shortage will regulate itself in time, because America will offer more attractions than ever, to men from the old world, but it will be left for many years to come. In the meantime the industrial world of unusual attractions to the young men of America.

Much of the skilled labor in our factories, come from abroad. The pay is better than many men prefer in commercial life. It presents today a field of rare opportunity, which our American boys should improve.

A dispatch from Rome says that more than 80,000 wounded Austrian soldiers already have arrived in Vienna, according to a dispatch received from that city. The hospitals of the city are filled to overflowing, and huts have been built to take care of the recent arrivals. The supply of doctors, nurses and medical equipment are insufficient to take care of the wounded. Food is scarce.

This is only one of a dozen cities where hospitals are crowded, to say nothing of the fields of carnage where men were slaughtered like sheep, and buried in the trenches without ceremony. The horrors of war can only be imagined.

With $40,000,000 in accounts and notes receivable, the International Harvester Corporation is compelled to pass its dividend on common stock. Much of the corporation's paper is represented in Russia and other foreign countries now involved in war, and the farmers who are liable, are many of them in the army. To add to the corporation's discomfort it is now defending itself against a suit brought by our own government on a charge of restraint of trade. This is the one common thread that is hit by the war both at home and abroad.

The Plank Puzzle.

Perhaps some of the wisecracks who have been criticizing the platform conventions at Madison can explain how a plank can be framed under such conditions without compromise; but if so, they are keeping the information a dark secret. Under the present primary system every candidate for a nomination is sufficient to himself. He draws up a dozen plans. He makes his own pledges. This method has some advantages in that it lets the people know exactly where the candidate stands. But if a platform convention meets and finds that one-third of its membership favors going ahead, one-third favors moving backward and the other third advocates standing still, what is to be done—Racine Daily Times.

"God Save Ireland," shouted an English member of the British House of Commons yesterday when the news came that King George had signed the home rule bill, and that, after thirty years of struggle, the act was at last on the statute book. The reply of John Redmond, who shares with Parnell the honor of securing for the Irish people that which they have so ardently desired, was "God Save England."—New York Globe.

On The Spur of The Moment

The Cat.

Once upon a midnight dreary, as I pondered, weak and weary,
Over many a quaint and curious volume of forgotten lore,
While a short snooze I was snatching,
Suddenly there came a scratching
"This no visitor," I muttered, "scratching at my chamber door."
Just the cat and nothing more.

I knew what the cat expected, and I knew I was elected.
So I grabbed the noisy feline to perform my nightly chore.
Down the cold stairway I hurried while the chilly breezelets scurried.
Round my shine and then I let him safely out the kitchen door.
I had put him out so often that it really made me sore.
Simply that and nothing more.

Back to my hall room I rambled and into the bed I scrambled.
When I heard a fearful wailing that I'd often heard before.
'Twas the same old caterwauling and the same old feline calling.
As he vainly tried to get in at the door.
Then I hastened down the stairway and was chilled through to the core.

Just to let him in once more.

The County Fair.

The ice cream cones this year are quite satisfactory although they still have the same old fault of leaking out at the bottom after you have held them in your hand fifteen or twenty minutes. The ice cream drips out of the bottom of the cone and spoils a brown colored vest in about a minute and a half. What is needed is a tin ice cream cone that can be soldered up. A tin cone would be much easier to digest than some we get nowadays. They have a very good musical comedy show called "The Midnight Belles." The girls dance without moving their feet. Mazepa, the educated horse, is not so exciting, but his performance is not ruse and no one need hesitate to take his father there. The home-made taffy, which you see thrown over a hook and pulled by a man with dark gloves on, is just as tasty as ever. Of course the man does not wear dark gloves. There is an expert out the fair who can throw this candy in the air and make a figure 8 out of it in ten seconds. He is off the ground most every time. He only dropped it three times while we were watching him yesterday and when he spread it out on the marble slab and snipped it off into five-cent lengths with a pair of shears, it had all the pristine beauty of the white marble tombstone. It was also of about the same consistency and taste. On account of the rain there were only two races at the fair yesterday, the white and the colored. They say the track was very heavy. I don't know who weighed it.

The Congressional Campaign.

We have read all the junk. The political bunk. And most of it's bunk. We'll be bound. It is a piffle, alas. And it's greener than grass. But still they will pass it around.

Tree Dispersal Water.

On one of the Canary islands there is a tree which dispels from its branches actual rain to such an extent that a cistern placed at its base is never unfilled. This tree grows in one of the driest islands, through which no water ever flows. The branches of the trees are a cloud that changes into moisture frequently and sheds clear water.

BULLETINS ATTRACT FAVORABLE COMMENT

Monthly Publication by Training School and County Superintendent

The October number of "Rock County Educational Bulletin," a monthly publication by the teachers' training school faculty and the county superintendent of schools, will be ready in several weeks and is awaited with interest by the rural teachers of the county for whose benefit the leaflet is printed. The first bulletin issued for September attracted favorable comment in all sections. Four copies were sent to each rural teacher who distributed them to the members of the school board. In addition to helpful articles on the practical side of teaching and the discussion of school problems, the bulletins will contain news and gossip of the training school and the rural schools.

The Training School Notes, organized, editing officers as follows: Seniors—President, Marion Williams, Beloit, R. R.; vice president, Alice Carroll, Beloit, R. R.; secretary, Hazel Gower, Janesville; treasurer, Helen Strang, Clinton. Juniors—President, Helen Doheny, Janesville; vice president, Josephine Burke, Janesville; secretary, Anna Ford, Evansville; treasurer, Edna Barrett, Beloit, R. R.

Some country school boards are very negligent about the matter of cutting the weeds on the school grounds before school opens. It is a disgrace to the district and is inexcusable. Someone should make it his business to mow down these unsightly weeds.

EXPLAINS METHODS FOR DRYING CORN

Allen B. West Writes of Corn Condition During Drying Season—Sunlight Bad.

Allen B. West.

Driving through the country in this vicinity at this time of year, one frequently sees corn hung up to dry; sometimes on the windmill frame, sometimes under the porch roof or the roof of some outbuilding. Now, while some of these places are suitable for the drying of the corn, it is doubtful if most of them present conditions to secure the best results, for upon the germinating power of the seed corn rests its value and this in turn depends very largely upon the way in which it is cured.

It must be remembered that each kernel of corn contains a small living plant and conditions must be such as not to injure its vitality.

There are three things against which the germ in the little plant must be protected, moisture—strong sunlight, and freezing. The rays of the sun will injure the vitality of the seed on the side of the ear turned toward the sun, hence the windmill frame is not usually a good place for drying seed corn. If dried under a porch roof or the roof of some outbuilding, it is doubtful if a sufficient degree of dryness is reached to insure against injury from freezing when freezing weather comes on.

When taken from the stalk, corn usually contains from 20 to 30 per cent or even more of moisture, which must be reduced to 10 or 12 per cent in order to have good seed corn.

If corn is placed in a warm damp atmosphere, the living germ is likely to suffer harm from molding. If the corn freezes while containing a large per cent of moisture, the cells are likely to be broken by the expansion caused by freezing and the germ killed.

So it is important that the corn should be dried quickly and after drying should be kept in a dry place, for it is quite possible for it to absorb moisture after drying to such an extent as to injure it when very cold weather sets in. It is better also to store it where it will be protected from frost, for it is not easy to tell when it is dry enough to make freezing safe.

Under conditions such as obtained on the average Rock county farm, the attic or the cellar in which is a furnace makes a good safe place for the storing of corn, care being taken, of course, to protect it from mice. The place should be well ventilated and the ears should be so placed that no two touch, each ear being exposed to a current of air.

There are various devices for holding corn from "corn trees" to simple arrangements of cord. A corn tree large enough to hold corn sufficient for planting 15 acres on the check row system may be made by taking a pole 6 feet long and 8 inches in diameter and after fitting it to base to hold it upright, driving into it headless finishing nails in rows about 2 1/2 to 3 inches apart. The ears of corn are thrust upon these nails and thus kept apart for curing. Such a tree, however, must be made secure from mice. Or one may take a 2x4, 8 feet long, and putting it through a tin pan to keep away the mice, may spike it to rafters in the attic or a joist in the cellar. It will hold about 150 ears if placed on nails driven in rows about 3 inches apart, two on each face and one on each edge, making 8 in each row around the 2x4. Some simply use cord, tying the ears of corn so they are a safe distance apart for drying.

Another device using cord is to take a strong string, binding twine is good for this purpose, and tie the ends together. Then taking hold of the string in two places so as to form a loop place an ear of corn at the bottom of the loop. Then change the strings from one hand to the other, directly over the first ear and continue until 10 or 12 ears are tied together. Two people, one holding the cord and the other placing the ears, cord can put up a large amount of corn in a short time.

Circular of information No. 18 of the U. V. gives further directions for curing large quantities seed corn.

National Geographic Society War Primer,

Chalons-sur-Marne to Marcy.—The country lying between Chalons-sur-Marne and Nancy is rich in history and full of points of present-day interest.

By air line the distance between Nancy and Chalons is 85 miles; by rail is 112 miles, and by canal, "The Marne and the Rhine," which extends from the head of navigation on the Marne river into Germany, about 120.

The first important town out of Chalons by rail is Vitry-le-Francois, with a population of about 9,000. This place was formerly fortified and, being located at the crossroads leading to Chalons, Chaumont, Fontainebleau and other points, is a strategic position.

Beyond Vitry is an uninteresting farming country after which we come to Ar-le-Duc, with its monument to the boys of the Meuse, who fell in 170, its beautiful church of St. Pierre, and its monument of the Michaux, a family who introduced important improvements in the manufacture of bicycles. Beyond Longvilly there is a railroad tunnel two and a half miles long, and a long series of cuts and through the heights between the valleys of the Aisne and the Meuse.

Ninety-two miles from Chalons is the fortified town of Toul, which resisted the Germans for forty days in 1914. A little further on lies Liverdun, where a tunnel carries the Meuse and Rhine canal beneath the town. The scenery in this part of the country is very beautiful in the entire journey from Paris to Strasbourg. Nancy is 20 miles from Toul by rail. The railroad from Chalons to Nancy parallels the Marne river and carries the Meuse, the Rhine and the Moselle.

West of Bar-le-Duc the valleys run east and west, while east of that point they run north and south. The military problem in the two sections somewhat different.

Chalons to Verdun.—The country lying between Chalons-sur-Marne and Verdun is now being fought over by the Allies and the Germans. Eleven miles north of Chalons is St. Hilaire, Au-Tempie, the junction point between the Marne and the Moselle. Three miles further on is the large military camp De Marbais, and three miles beyond this, a great circular entrenchment, known as Attila's Camp. It was near here that Attila the Hun was defeated in the battle of Chalons—a battle which ran north and south.

The fifteen decisive battles of the world, in which was successfully checked Attila's mighty attempt to found an anti-Christian dynasty. Thirty-three miles beyond Chalons is the town of Valmy, where the Allies under the Duke of Brunswick were defeated by the French in 1792. This was the famous "cannonade of Valmy," wherein, according to Carlyle, the French Sansculottes did not fly like poultry. A pyramid on the battlefield contains the heart of Kellermann, one of the French generals in that battle. Eastward of the Valmy lies the fertile valley of the River Aisne, which runs midway between Chalons and Verdun. In this valley is situated the town of Sainte Menne, of about 5,000 population, and noted for its pork. It was here that Louis XVI was recognized by "Old Dragon Drouet" on his attempted flight from France in 1791. Beyond this place lies the picturesque country which contains the famous forest of Argonne, well known from the campaign of 1912. After passing through this forest, Verdun is reached, 174 miles out from Paris.

Argonne is a department of France on the northeast frontier, with an area of 2,038 square miles and a population exceeding 350,000. Its rivers are the Meuse and the Aisne. Its agricultural products are wheat, oats, potatoes, rye and many kinds of forage. Ar-denées is to France what the Blue Grass region of Kentucky is to the United States—its horses are known throughout the country. Flour-mills, sawmills, sugar works, distilleries and leather works are scattered over the department. Among its minor industries is the making of wooden shoes. Sedan, where the famous surrender of the French to the Germans took place, is located in Ardennes. The chief cities of the department are Metz, the capital, Charleville, Rocroi and Reims.

Lyck, or Lys.—A German town of East Prussia, ten miles from the border of Russian Poland, 112 miles southeast of Königsberg, on a lake and river of the same name. Its population is close to 14,000. Lyck is the chief town of the region known as Masuria. A castle formerly belonging to the Teutonic order and dating from 1273 is still standing on an island in the Lyck Lake and is now used as a prison.

FEEL HEADACHY, DIZZY, BILIOUS, SICK? CLEAN YOUR TORPID LIVER—DIME A BOX

Sick headaches! Always trace them to lazy liver; delayed torments food; lax the bowels or a sick stomach. Biliousness, constipated matter, gases and bile generated in the bowels, instead of being carried out of the system, is reabsorbed into the blood. When this poison reaches the delicate brain tissue it causes congestion and that dull, sickening headache. Cascarets will remove the cause by stimulating the liver, making the bile and constipation poison move on and out of the bowels. One taken to-night straightens you out by morning—a 10 cent box will keep your head clear, stomach sweet, liver and bowels regular, and make you feel bright and cheerful for months. Children need Cascarets, too.

To tell the best—the kind that affords the biggest money's worth and most satisfaction to the consumer—is easy for the old miller or food expert.

But the purchaser who doesn't know, must be protected. That is why the producers of the very finest Corn Flakes didn't call them "Jones' Corn Flakes" or "Smith's Corn Flakes."

WOMEN SEEK MEN'S PLACES IN ENGLAND

British Women Wish to Go to War—Fill Soldiers' Jobs in London Equally Well.

London, Sept. 22.—Remarkable testimony to the eagerness with which women want to fill the places of men who have been called away from England to fight for their country is given by the Women's Emergency Corps, which under the leadership of the Duchess of Marlborough has completed a register of 15,000 names of women who desire to be of service.

"How diverse the jobs they seek," says Mrs. Flora Anna Steel in writing of the work of the Women's Emergency Corps, "may be guessed by the entries of over 100 interpreters—none of whom speak less than four languages and some of them eleven—of more than 200 expert horsewomen ready at a few hours' notice to serve at home or abroad, and who are quite capable of managing or working in remount camps. Many of these, having shot and camped all over the world, are eminently suited for rough work. Then there are 150 expert motorcyclists eager for patrol or despatch work, and endless stalwart young women for which such jobs as omnibus conducting, milk delivering, gardening and the farm world that is generally done by lads of nineteen or twenty.

"Of course, behind and beyond these more or less frequent volunteers comes the great army of nurses, domestic workers, clerical agents, and the numberless well educated, intelligent women who are fully capable of shop and general business work. Naturally enough, qualified doctors, nurses and dispensers are drafted out as soon as they come in. Cooks and domestic servants follow suit; but every day's register points to the fact that we have here a mighty agent for the national good.

"And so the Women's Emergency Corps feels itself justified in making an offer to the war office, the government and the country at large—namely, that they are prepared to find a paid substitute for any man who enlists; such substitute to guarantee to leave the job on the man's return and to take over the man's belongings as a personal charge; that is to say, while not binding herself to give pecuniary assistance, she will see to it that allowances are duly paid, that relief in special circumstances is given, and generally so far as in her lies, stand as a friend between the man's dependents and the cold world. "This is a big offer; it is one which, naturally, will require adjustment, each individual case; but it one which holds enormous advantages, enormous possibilities."

Nero Played a Bagpipe.

Although bagpipes are usually associated with Scotland, they are not peculiar to the Highlands. It is an ancient Greek and Roman instrument. On a piece of ancient Greek sculpture now in Rome a bagpiper is represented dressed like a Scotch Highlander. Nero is said to have played upon a bagpipe. Chaucer represents the miller as skilled in playing bagpipes.

Appreciation of Reporters. I have always had great sympathy for newspaper reporters, a class of men generally about equally feared and criticized. During a large part of my life since my graduation I have been brought in constant contact with the men of this profession. Only on rare occasions have I suffered at their hands serious injustice, due either to deliberate intent or to gross misunderstanding. I have generally found them courteous and considerate, honestly desirous of getting the truth and reporting it accurately.—Lyman Abbott in the Outlook.

Why Rice Is Thrown. The meaning of throwing rice after weddings as an auspicious sendoff to the happy couple is not far to seek. Inasmuch as rice is the most prolific of grains it has always and everywhere been regarded as emblematic of God's command to Adam and Eve, and after the deluge to Noah to increase and multiply, and replenish the earth.

Humanitarian. At an evening party a very elderly lady was dancing with a young partner. A stranger approached Douglas Jerrold, who was looking on, and said: "Pray, sir, can you tell me who is the young gentleman dancing with that elderly lady?" "One of the humane society, I should judge," replied Jerrold.—Exchange.

Cost Kept Down—Quality Kept Up. No better medicine could be made for coughs, colds, croup, hoarseness, tickling throat bronchitis, etc., than Foley's Honey and Tar Compound. That's why they can't improve the quality, and war or no war, the price remains the same. E. J. Sargent, Dallas, Tex., says: "I believe Foley's Honey and Tar has no equal for its completely relieved me of all symptoms of tuberculosis and my cough has entirely disappeared. Don't accept any substitute, for Foley's Honey and Tar is the best. W. T. Sherer.
